North American Young Generation in Nuclear
 Co-hosts IYNC2012

Conference Host

The International Youth Nuclear Congress (IYNC) 2012 meeting will be held in Charlotte, North Carolina (US), in August 2012 co-hosted by IYNC and the North American Young Generation in Nuclear (NA-YGN).

The congress will take place in the Westin Charlotte hotel.

In addition to the comprehensive technical program, a number of social and cultural events are arranged. These activities will allow delegates to network and to experience Southern American culture.

Important Deadlines

Conference Programme

The conference programme will consist of oral presentations, poster presentations, panel discussions and workshops.

IYNC2012 will also include a special track on Professional Development with a focus on Strategic Planning in nuclear technologies throughout the world.

Proposed Technical Tracks

- Plant Design and Construction
- Operation and Maintenance
- Thermal Hydraulics
- Core Design, Simulation and Modeling
- Nuclear Materials and Chemistry
- Structural Integrity
- Advanced and Innovative Nuclear Systems
- Fusion Science and Technology
- Reactor Safety and Human Factors
- Radiation Science
- Medical Applications
- Nuclear Policies, Safeguards and Economics
- Human Resources in Nuclear
- Young Generation Activities
- Strategic Planning

Workshops

The programme committee is working on "interactive" workshops in small groups. Different technical and non-technical topics will be offered in an informal atmosphere. The outcome should offer an added value to the young professional's career.

Technical Tours

The technical program will include visits to nuclear power plants, facilities for medical applications and fuel fabrication plants.

Networking Events

IYNC2012 offers the participants a variety of networking and cultural events:

- IYNC games
- Welcome reception
- Cultural evenings
- Farewell dinner
- Additional cultural visits
