

ROMATOM is a non-governmental legal entity constituted of associated and supportive members.

Its members are Romanian and/or foreign legal entities whose core competence is the production of energy using nuclear means, members that are goods and service suppliers in the Romanian nuclear energy field, as well as other legal entities that unfold nuclear energy related activities and research as provided by the Romanian law in the field.

The purpose of ROMATOM is the peaceful use of nuclear energy in Romania and the promotion of the national nuclear program, as well as the coordination of all assumed activities through the ROMATOM's adherence and participation in FORATOM. ROMATOM acts for the support and promotion of its members, representing the voice of the domestic nuclear industry, taking into consideration the acquired technological and know-how level with a view to capitalize it in practice. In addition, ROMATOM supports new and efficient solutions applicable to Romanian nuclear energy sector and expresses original points of view regarding the current nuclear energy issues in particular and energy in general for a sustainable development of society and a minimum impact on the environment.
